

COLLECTION

THE COTSWOLDS

FINE & COUNTRY

PAUL HOLLYWOOD

Joyful bakes from the King of Great British baking

PROPERTY MATTERS

Some of the finest homes
available in The Cotswolds
via Fine & Country

COUNTRY CHIC

The right attire for your next weekend escape in the countryside

FINE & COUNTRY

The Cotswolds

Within this edition...

10

Property matters

Some of the finest homes currently available via Fine & Country across Cotswolds and Cirencester.

24

Country Chic

We take a look at the right attire for your next weekend escape in the countryside.

35

Paul Hollywood

Celebrate every special moment with Paul Hollywood. With over ten years as a beloved Bake Off judge.

44

Country House Interiors

The classic English country house style is as relevant today as it has ever been.

54

Classic Country

Embrace the contemporary country house look this autumn with a colourful layered style.

64

Escape to the Country

Why escaping to a roaring fire deep in the countryside should be top of your mini-break wish list.

Image - Lucinda Martin

COUNTRY HOUSE Interiors

The classic English country house style is as relevant today as it has ever been — with the best in the business mastering the inimitable art of blending a timeless and comfortable layered look with the demands of modern lifestyles. Here's our pick of some of the finest interior designers working across Britain today.

Jessica Buckley

Edinburgh-based Jessica Buckley Interiors was established in 2011, offering a bespoke, fully tailored design service to discerning clients worldwide. Jessica's fresh aesthetic and instinctive sense of style stem from a lifelong passion for beautifully decorated homes and an appreciation for living in spaces you truly love. Her love of beautiful fabrics, colour, and pattern continues to shape her design approach, inspiring her ability to combine styles from Sydney, the USA, and the Middle East.

www.jessicabuckley.co.uk

Sims Hilditch

Creative Founder Emma Sims-Hilditch launched Sims Hilditch in 2009, drawing on skills from her earlier career in film production with Ridley Scott. Since then, she has assembled an expert team of interior designers, architects, and procurement specialists, led by CEO Henry Hird and Studio Director Gemma Holsgrove. The headquarters sit five miles from Bath, while a second studio at Eccleston Place, near Pimlico Road, offers clients convenient access in central London.

www.simshilditch.com

Jeffreys Interiors

Based in Edinburgh, this celebrated interior design studio and retail destination has over two decades of experience crafting richly layered, personality-driven interiors for private residences, boutique hospitality, and heritage properties. Their philosophy is rooted in storytelling: each space reflects its inhabitants, enriched with colour, texture, and form. Blending timeless principles with bold contemporary detail, they create interiors that feel elegant and individual.

www.jeffreys-interiors.co.uk

Woodhouse & Law

Founded in 2009 by garden designer Nick Woodhouse and interior designer John Law, Woodhouse and Law was created to break down traditional boundaries by offering a complete service for homes and gardens. Their holistic approach unites interiors and exteriors into one harmonious vision, challenging the divide between inside and out. The studio delivers every aspect of a project — from concept to completion — through a collaborative, accessible process defined by creativity

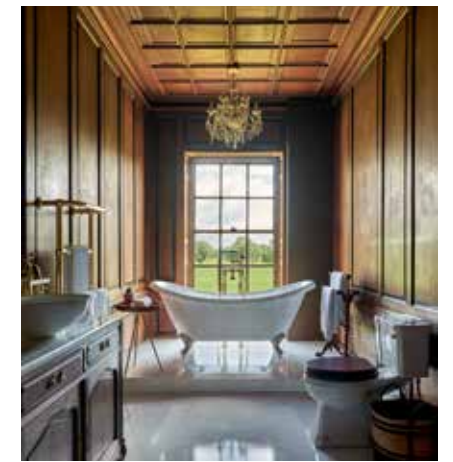

www.woodhouseandlaw.co.uk

Camilla Bellord Interiors

With over 23 years in the design industry, Camilla is a classically trained interior designer, graduating with honours from KLC School of Design in 2002. She has worked with Northacre, Fox Linton, and Federica Palacios Design. Her projects include Chelsea show apartments, Cadogan Square townhouses, Cotswold retreats, the Grand Park Hotel, and Gstaad ski chalets. In 2016 she launched Camilla Bellord Interiors, delivering timeless, eclectic interiors.

www.camillabellordinteriors.com

Lucinda Martin

Lucinda Martin Interior Design is a studio specialising in residential interiors for private clients. Based in Shropshire, her portfolio spans both country and town houses. Lucinda personally manages every commission, providing a one-to-one service that guides clients seamlessly through the design process. She takes pride in tailoring each project to individual taste and budget, making considered choices to ensure every interior is both carefully curated and perfectly aligned with her clients' vision.

www.lmid.co.uk